Subject: KW Part Number Consolidation and Update

In efforts to streamline the KW program and your inventory we have been working to consolidate the application line. In the past due to European Federal regulations (TÜV), each variation in a KW Coilover kit had to have its own certification per vehicle. Stated simply in an example, if a vehicle model (i.e. VW Golf) offered with a 4 cylinder engine, a Diesel, and a 2.5l 5 cylinder, each would need its own certification, and therefore its own part number even if the components used were 100% identical. This resulted in much duplication.

Due to heavy petitioning by KW, we have been granted a variance that allows us to provide the documentation for the countries that need it in a different manner.

Here is the net result of the change to the KW Coilover program for North America:

- 29 part numbers have been added to the program
- 94 have been superseded and/or consolidated

Included in the attached multi-tab spreadsheet is the following:

Tab1: KW Complete Coilover List

This is the complete program we currently offer, reorganized to show all options we offer (Variant 1 through Club sport) on a single line per Make/Model.

If the part number we used in the past has been superseded, the new number is shown beside it in the Column marked "2010 UPDATE". The new number is in Bold and has a black box around it.

Tab 2: Load sheet 02.01.2010

This is the current version of the Load sheet with ALL ACTIVE PARTS.

Tab 3: New Parts

This is a list of the new parts that will need to be added to your systems.

Tab 4: Complete Supersession Customer

This tab contains a direct Old Part Number to New Part # supersession list for those of you who can use it.
